

AG HELP WANTED

Engaging Farm Labor

How to formally engage labor—through direct employment, farm labor contractors and other service providers, or independent contractor agreements—is a basic choice.

When staffing with direct employees and family members, key decisions include: 1) Which tasks and duties to combine into jobs, 2) How to group jobs within crews or other organizational units, 3) What rates of pay and fringe benefits to offer, and 4) How to select employees for specific positions and assignments.
