

AG HELP WANTED

Supporting Teamwork

Teamwork is necessary and common in agricultural operations and both management and production levels.

Teamwork is necessary and common in agricultural operations at management, as well as production, levels. Relatively stable work crews and other units defined by the organizational structure may themselves function as a team or include multiple teams. In virtually all teams, the quality of member relationships affects the work product.

Learn more from AgHelpWanted - Supervising Agricultural Work at: AgHelpWanted.org

AgHelpWanted.org